FEES PAYABLE FOR EACH SERVICE PROVIDED AND REFERRAL COMMISSION

The indicative fees and charges that you will pay for our services are set out in Appendix A to this FSG.

The fees and charges set out in Appendix A consist of 2 parts; brokerage which is a fee for executing a trade on your behalf and all other fees and charges.

With respect to brokerage, Desktop Broker has an agreement with your financial advisor under which your financial advisor determines the amount of brokerage that you will be charged. Desktop Broker retains part of the brokerage that is charged by us with respect to each trade and pays the remainder of this amount to your financial adviser.

Because your financial adviser determines the brokerage that is to be paid, we cannot ascertain in advance how much brokerage will be paid by you. In addition, we cannot determine in advance how much will be retained by us and how much will be paid to your financial adviser. However, we expect that this payment will be made in accordance with the ranges set out in Appendix A. The actual payment will vary depending upon a number of matters including:

- the number of trades we have executed as a result of orders placed by your financial adviser. Usually, the more trades that are executed, the lower the proportion of brokerage that will be retained by us; and
- the size of the trade. Usually, the larger the trade, the lower the proportion of brokerage that will be retained by us.

The total amount of brokerage that is to be paid by you will be set out in the confirmation that will be sent to you from us with respect to each trade.

All fees and charges other than brokerage, that may be charged to you will be retained by us.

HOW ARE WE AND OUR REPRESENTATIVES PAID FOR SERVICES PROVIDED?

We are remunerated directly through the fees that we charge you. With respect to some financial products we may also be remunerated by way of commission or other payments from the product issuer including a product issuer that is a related body corporate of Desktop Broker. Details of these commissions are set out in Appendix A to this FSG. Our Representatives are paid a salary and may also receive other benefits such as bonuses. Desktop Broker may receive the interest payable on any Trust Account balance maintained in conjunction with its Financial Services business.
